

THE HOUSE THE JEWS FEARED:

THE JEWISH CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY

Hitler may have slaughtered 6 million Jews in Germany during the early 1940's while the Jews in Russia had slaughtered over 20 million Christians in 1917 during the Bolshevik Revolution.

This is the story of a house, a house that caused uncontrolled terror in the hearts of the Jews of the world. It was the home of Adolf Hitler. The setting for this story is the beautiful Obersalzberg area, 1800 feet above Berchtesgaden. In addition to the Majestic scenery, the area is interesting and has a great historical background due to the fact that it had been Hitler's official home and residence from 1930 to 1945. The Obersalzberg is the cradle of Nazism, and even before Hitler rose to power, this area played an important part in Hitler's personal history. When Hitler visited this place for the first time in 1920, the area was deeply forested and only a few farms and two inns were located there. Hitler immediately fell in love with the spot and stayed at one of the inns. It is the Platterhof, still in existence and known as the General Walker. This old inn (mentioned for the first time about 1650) became one of the most modern and elegant hotels in all of Southern Germany during the Third Reich. On the 9th of November 1923 Hitler attempted to save Germany from Communism by taking control of the government through a revolt staged at the Munich Buergerbraukeller which was meant to carry him and his young party to the top of the Bavarian Government. But the Jews and other degenerates were still too strong and this plan to free the German people from slavery failed. After its failure, the party was outlawed by the yiddles in power and its leaders indicted for treason. Many fled, but Hitler decided to move up to Obersalzberg where lived many true Christian Patriots who would help him to continue his fight to save Germany and the world from Satanic Communism. It is well for us to mention here the fact that Hitler was a Christian and any stories to the contrary are pure Jewish lies. Remember anywhere in the world that you meet people who claim be followers of Adolf Hitler or so-called Neo-Nazis first check to see if they are Christians. If they are not, they are FAKERS. Hitler chose a small one room log cabin, later on called the "Kampfhaus," because there he started to write his book Mein Kampf, and there he finished the first three chapters of it.

After his trial and conviction, Hitler served a prison term of half a year at Landsberg, and there was where he completed his book. After being released from prison, Hitler returned to the beautiful mountain area of Obersalzberg, just above Berchtesgaden, and resumed his studies. In this place which makes one feel closer to God, Hitler studied the Bible and reaffirmed in public declaration his acceptance of Christ as his Saviour. Hitler said: "My feeling as a CHRISTIAN points me to MY LORD AND SAVIOUR as a fighter. It points me to the man who once in loneliness, surrounded only by a few followers, recognized these Jews for what they were and summoned men to fight against them and who, God's truth! Was greatest not as sufferer but as fighter. IN BOUNDLESS LOVE AS A CHRISTIAN and as a man I READ THROUGH THE PASSAGE which tells us how THE LORD at last rose in His might and seized the scourge to drive out of the Temple the brood of vipers and adders." Now can you understand why the Jews of the world spent night and day lying about Hitler so they could get YOU to do their dirty work for them and destroy Germany during World War 2? Now America is being punished by Almighty God for helping the JEWS kill millions of Germans. Everyone is complaining about the terrible condition America is in. And it's getting worse every day. NOW YOU KNOW WHY! (If any pseudo-intellectual or other sap would like to challenge the fact that Hitler made these Christian statements, we can supply enough proof to bury him!

In 1926 the ban on the Nazi party was lifted and in 1930, it had become the second strongest in Germany, and now Hitler was able to fulfill his wish which, through all those years had been to make Obersalzberg his permanent residence. He rented a country home "Haus Wachenfeld," finally bought it in 1933, after he had been elected Chancellor of Germany, thus releasing the German people from slavery and starvation and stopping the spread of Communism in its tracks. Hitler had his new home greatly enlarged and modernized between 1935 and 1937. The house was officially named "The Berghof." During the same period, 1935-1937, the entire Obersalzberg area was acquired by the Reich after THE ORIGINAL OWNERS WERE PAID! Where there had been forests and meadows, a small town grew up. On its completion, it consisted of the homes of Hitler, Goering and Bormann, an SS garrison of 700 men who served as Hitler's personal body guards, (to protect him from paid assassins hired by the Jews who had been trying to murder him since 1933), the Platterhof Hotel, and large settlements for dependents and people who were in any way affiliated with the Obersalzberg area.

Hitler's home, the Berghof, was designed by a Munich architect by the name of Decann. One of the most beautiful parts of it was the extremely large conference room, with a huge picture window, 12 feet high by 25 feet long, marble floor and its beautiful furniture. Here was the scene of many historic meetings and conferences. It is the most important of them being the Sudeten conference in September 1938, when Chamberlain, Daladier, Mussolini and Hitler came to the Berghof. This was the famous meeting which resulted in the Munich Treaty (Peace in our Time). This then was the place where Hitler spent most of his time. The place where he engineered his attack upon communism and by 1941 had almost destroyed it and would have if we Americans had not allowed ourselves to be duped into helping Russia! This house became a hated symbol to the Jews of the world, as from it one man almost destroyed their centuries old plan to take over the world. After America stepped in and won the war that the rest of the Allied nations had lost to Germany, the Jews could contain their hatred for this house no longer. On April 25, 1945 when the war was all but over the Jews ordered the "Royal" Air Force to destroy Hitler's house and the Obersalzberg area. The house was heavily damaged but still stood proud and upright. For the next seven years more and more people were coming to view the ruins. Germans began to talk of a re-awakening and rebirth of the Reich. Groups would be so instilled with patriotism they would sing the National Anthem and the Horst Wessel Song. Now the Jewish spook fighters were so frightened by thoughts of "Hitler's spirit" in his old house that they finally managed to convince the U.S. Occupation forces to order the German government to blow up the ruins. In their same spooky way they had it done on the anniversary of Hitler's death 7 years later on April 30th, 1952. Their fear was so great these Jewish cowards had bulldozers plow under the remains. The first time in history a house scared the daylights out of millions of people. Still, with all their efforts, enough remains for visitors to see and you should go there. It's inspiring! It will take more than the destruction of a house to stop the eventual uprising of the Christians of the world and prosecution of the Jews for their CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY!!!
